UPWARD

EVER

"EXCELSIOR"

HIGHER

STILL

To the Members of the Olivet Family

and to all who strive for perfection

in love and service, in the Kingdom of God,

Greetings:

Beloved:

I thank God increasingly, for you and for the privilege of having served you over the last twelve months. As we reflect upon the past year we see much accomplished, and yet,

(not) mind new frontiers of achievement beckon us onward and upward.

To be sure, we have had our moments of anxiety and frustration, but in the main, the waters have been placid. Some who walked with us at the beginning of this conference year are no longer among the living and our hearts have been saddened, but let us close ranks and continue the work we are in--to make the Kingdom of God real in the hearts of men.

Olivet has a glorious history in South Bend and has contributed much to its religious life, but we cannot rest on our laurels, our motto must be "Excelsior"--ever higher!

For your prayers, love, and loyalty, I shall ever be grateful. May God bless you and bring joys over-flowing to you and your loved ones.

Yours in His Name,

O. Lampton Powell
O. Lampton Powell, B.S., B.D.

P.S.

"One ship sails East--another West,
By the self-same winds that blow,
It's the set of the sail and not the gale
That determines the way it shall go."

"Like the winds of the sea are the ways of Fate,
As we journey along through life.
It's the set of the soul that determines the goal,
And not the calm or the strife."

*(Signed on back)

The Pastor extends a special word of appreciation to Mrs. Lola B. Mathews and Mrs. Dolores Toy, who helped with the preparation of the Annual Report.

Yours in His Name,

SYMBOLISM OF COLORS

UPWARD

Hangings, or antependia, on altar, lectern, and pulpit are to a church what curtains and drapes are to a home. Whenever they appear in churches, the changing colors attract, add variety, and point to the significance of the season or the festival. The same colors of the church year are used also for bookmarks and stoles.

WHITE is the symbol of the Creator, light, joy, purity, innocence, glory, and perfection.

VIOLET denotes mourning and penitence, and is also symbolic of humility, suffering, sympathy, and fasting. PURPLE, equally appropriate, is frequently used instead of violet. Purple is the regal color, referring to the triumphal entry of the King of Kings, who was of royal (Davidic) descent, and who is the Ruler of many hearts. Purple is also the color of penitence, referring to the purple garments put on our Lord when they mocked him (John 19:2; Mark 15:17).

RED depicts divine zeal on the day of Pentecost, and refers to the blood of the martyrs of the Church.

GREEN is the universal color of nature, signifying hope.

BLACK is the color of grief and sorrow.

To these five colors of the church year we may add GOLD, since it is used on fringes of the hangings. Gold refers to worth, virtue, the glory of God, and Christian might.

The following table shows when the various colors are used:

FESTIVAL or SEASON	COLOR
The four Sundays in Advent	Violet (or Purple)
Christmas	White
Sundays after Christmas	White
Epiphany and the following Sundays (Green by Episcopalians after the Epiphany Octave)	White
Transfiguration of our Lord	White
Pre-Lenten Sundays (Septuagesima, Sexagesima, and Quinquegesima Sundays) (Or Green by Lutherans)*	Violet
All Sundays in Lent	Violet
All other days in Lent, up to Good Friday	Violet
Holy Week, beginning with vespers of Palm Sunday	Violet (or Black)*
Maundy Thursday (Or White if the Holy Communion is celebrated)*	Violet
Good Friday	Black (or no paraments)
Easter and the following Sundays	White
Ascension Day and the following Sunday	White

THE VESTMENTS

A minister may wear the academic robe, a clerical robe, or the historic vestments of the church. The clerical robe indicates the priestly or prophetic function.

The Academic Robe can only be worn by graduates of a college or a seminary. It indicates the teaching ministry of the church.

The Clerical Robe can only be worn by Ordained Clergy.

The Stole may be worn only by Ordained Clergy.

The Historic Vestments: consist of a cassock, a surplice and a set of stoles in the five liturgical colors. A Chasuble and/or an Alb may be worn by the Pastor for Celebration of the Holy Communion, in highly liturgical churches.

Special Choir garments are referred to as Vestments.

The Altar Boys (Acolytes) garments are referred to as Vestments.

OTHER EQUIPMENT WITHIN THE CHANCEL

The Cross: We use the Latin form of the cross which is the oldest and basic in design. There are over 400 variations of the cross. As Protestants we do not use the crucifix which bears the body of Jesus, for our belief is that Jesus has left the cross and ascended on high in victory and triumph.

The Cross may be placed on the altar, or on a gradine, retable or shelf above and back of the altar. It may be placed on the wall in back of the altar raised and in the extra center.

The Candles: on the altar should be only two in number. The candles should be lit for every liturgical service. If branch candelabra are used at all, they should be on a shelf, better still floor candelabra, or set in the sanctuary on either side of the altar.

The candles may be burned to within two inches of the holders before they are removed. Holders should be kept clean at all times.

Candles symbolize Jesus Christ the Light of the World. When one candle appears on each side of the altar they represent the two natures of Christ, the divine and the human.

Six candles on each side of the altar signify that our worship is never complete, they represent the attributes ascribed to the Creator; wisdom, majesty, power, love, mercy and justice, or they may represent the six days of creation, or the six hours Christ spent on the cross.

A seven branched candlestick on each side of the altar refers to the perfect life of Jesus, but mainly they refer to the seven gifts of the holy spirit.

Flowers: Flowers may be used on pedestals on either side of the altar. Altar should never be crowded with flowers. Empty vases are never to be left in the chancel. For Christmas, Ascension and Easter, white flowers are most appropriate. Never use flowers during Advent and Lent except on Sundays. No flowers during Holy Week with the possible exception of Maundy Thursday. Never use artificial flowers.

Flowers symbolize the beauty of God and the resurrection of Jesus.

A Vesper Cloth: Dark blue in color the size of the communion table may protect the communion table when services are not being conducted, or while church is being swept.

WHAT METHODISTS BELIEVE!

As an introductory statement in this Annual Report we have felt that it might be profitable to set forth a condensation of the Articles of Religion of the Methodist Church. This is probably the best way of answering a basic question raised by non-Methodists, newcomers and even people who have been members of the church for some time. These Methodist articles of religion were originally adopted from the Thirty-nine Articles of Religion of the church of England, the church which we know in this country as the Episcopal Church. They indicate some close doctrinalities which the Methodist and the Episcopal churches share in common. The following articles are considerably condensed and also given modern phraseology so that they may be more easily understood:

I. The Holy Trinity: There is but one living and true God, everlasting, without body or parts, of infinite power, wisdom, and goodness; the maker and preserver of all things, visible and invisible, and in the unity of this Godhead there are three persons, of one substance, power and eternity - the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit.

II. The Son of God: There is one Christ, very God and very man, who truly suffered, was crucified, dead and buried, to reconcile the Father to us, and to be a sacrifice, not only for original sin, but also for the actual sins of men.

III. The Resurrection of Christ: Christ did truly rise from the dead, and took again his body, with all things appertaining to the perfection of man's nature, wherewith he ascended into heaven, and there sitteth until he return to judge all men at the last day.

IV. The Holy Spirit: The Holy Spirit, proceeding from the Father and the Son, is of one substance, majesty, and glory, with the Father and the Son, very and eternal God.

V. The Holy Scriptures: The Holy Scriptures contain all things necessary to salvation; so that whatsoever is not read therein, nor may be proved thereby, is not to be required of any man that it should be believed as an article of faith, or be thought requisite or necessary to salvation.

VI. The Old Testament: The Old Testament is not contrary to the New. Its moral commandments are a part of the Christian faith.

VII. Original Sin: Original Sin is the corruption of the nature of every man, that naturally is engendered in the descendants of Adam, whereby man is far gone from original righteousness, and of his own nature inclined to evil, and that continually.

VIII. The Justification of Man: We are accounted righteous before God only for the merit of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, by faith, and not for our own good works or deservings.

IX. Concerning Good Works: Although we are saved by faith and not by good works or good deeds, such good works are pleasing to God and a sign of our faith.

X. Free Will: Only with God's power, through His grace, do we have power to do good works or good deeds. Our wills are free only in His will.

XI. Works of Supererogation: This refers to the teaching that man can do more good works or deeds than God requires and thus lay up extra merit. The Methodist Church rejects this doctrine, holding that no man can do more than God asks or requires.

- CHURCH . M. A. THE
- XII. Sin after Justification: It is possible for a man to sin after he has committed himself to God without falling wholly out of God's grace or love. God will receive him again if he truly repents of his sin.
- XIII. The Church: The visible Church of Christ is a congregation of faithful men in which the pure Word of God is preached, and the Sacraments duly administered according to Christ's ordinance.
- XIV. Purgatory: The doctrine of purgatory, as taught by the Roman Catholic Church, is rejected by Methodists because nowhere taught in the Scriptures.
- XV. Concerning Language in Worship: Worship services are to be conducted in a language understood by the entire congregation.
- XVI. The Sacraments: There are only two sacraments, baptism and the Lord's Supper and not seven as commonly taught by the Roman Catholic Church.
- XVII. Baptism: Baptism is not only a sign of profession and mark of difference whereby Christians are distinguished from others that are not baptised; but it is also a sign of regeneration or the new birth. The baptism of young children is to be retained in the church.
- XVIII. The Lord's Supper: The Supper of the Lord is not only a sign of the love that Christians ought to have among themselves one to another, but rather is a sacrament of our redemption by Christ's death. The elements of the supper, bread and wine, are not miraculously changed into the blood and body of Christ. Rather the body and blood are received after a spiritual manner.
- XIX. Of Both Kinds: The cup of the Lord is not to be denied to the lay people (as it is in the Roman Catholic Church); for both parts of the Lord's Supper, by Christ's ordinance and commandment, ought to be administered to all Christians alike.
- XX. The Sacrifice of Christ: Christ's one sacrifice upon the cross was and is sufficient for the removal of our sins. Thus, the Roman Catholic teaching that Christ is sacrificed anew each time the mass is said is rejected.
- XXI. The Marriage of Ministers: The ministers of Christ are not commanded by God's law either to vow the estate of single life, or to abstain from marriage; therefore, it is lawful for them, as for all other Christians, to marry at their own discretion, as they shall judge the same to serve best to godliness.
- XXII. The Rites and Ceremonies of Churches: It is not required that rites and ceremonies be the same in every place and time.
- XXIII. (This article states that Methodism in the United States shall be subject to the laws of this country, which had just won its independence from England.)
- XXIV. The Christian Man's Possessions: The riches and goods of a Christian man are not common, as touching the right, title, and possession of the same. However, a Christian should give liberally to the needy and poor.
- XXV. A Christian Man's Oath: Wherever the law requires it, A Christian Man may take an oath.
